

These are a few of the Major Soros-One-World-Government organizations. We have to know WHO they are, WHAT they are doing, and WHY. They are the massive spider web to spider web to spider web of socialist conspiracies. When combined with the Soros-Rupert-Buffer webs of media, finance, political intrigue – better known as inside-government collusion, primarily socialist Kak Jews – they have a near stranglehold on the better part of the planet, and we need to bring them down like a house of flimsy cards.

Pay close attention, we're going to BLAST these Bastard Organizations as part of the next order of business.

American Immigration Council: This non-profit organization is a prominent member of the open-borders lobby. It advocates expanded rights and amnesty for illegal aliens residing in the U.S.

American Immigration Law Foundation: This group supports amnesty for illegal aliens, on whose behalf it litigates against the U.S. government.

American Institute for Social Justice: AISJ's goal is to produce skilled community organizers who can "transform poor communities" by agitating for increased government spending on city services, drug interdiction, crime prevention, housing, public-sector jobs, access to healthcare and public schools.

American Library Association: This group has been an outspoken critic of the Bush administration's War on Terror – most particularly, Section 215 of the USA Patriot Act, which it calls "a present danger to the constitutional rights and privacy rights of library users."

The American Prospect, Inc. (TAP): This corporation trains and mentors young leftwing journalists, and organizes strategy meetings for leftist leaders. TAP is a not-for-profit, tax-exempt organization that effectively owns and publishes the left-liberal magazine The American Prospect.

Amnesty International: This organization directs a grossly disproportionate share of its criticism for human rights violations at the United States and Israel.

Arab American Institute Foundation: The Arab American Institute denounces the purportedly widespread civil liberties violations directed against Arab Americans in the post-9/11 period, and characterizes Israel as a brutal oppressor of the Palestinian people.

Center for Responsible Lending: Funneled bad mortgages to Fannie Mae & Freddie Mac; player in the subprime mortgage crisis. According to Phil Kerpen (vice president for policy at Americans for Prosperity), CRL "shook down and harassed banks into making bad loans to unqualified borrowers." Moreover, CRL negotiated a contract enabling it to operate as a conduit of high-risk loans to Fannie Mae.

Campus Progress: A project of the Soros-bankrolled Center for American Progress, this group seeks to "strengthen progressive voices on college and university campuses, counter the growing influence of right-wing groups on campus, and empower new generations of progressive leaders."

Center for American Progress: This leftist think tank is headed by former Clinton chief of staff John Podesta, works closely with Hillary Clinton, and employs numerous former Clinton administration staffers. It is committed to "developing a long-term vision of a progressive America" and "providing a forum to generate new progressive ideas and policy proposals."

Center for Community Change: This organization promotes the redistribution of wealth, an end to enhanced interrogation procedures vis a vis prisoners-of-war, the enactment of policies to combat global warming, and the creation of a government-run health care system.

Faithful America: Using religions within the United States, they include but go beyond the Christian Left. Its core partners are:

Sojourners Ministries, is a U.S. Christian Left interest group, formed in 1971. It states its mission as articulating "the biblical call to social justice, inspiring hope and building a movement to transform individuals, communities, the church, and the world. During the 1980s it championed Communist revolution in Central America and chastised U.S. policy-makers for their tendency "to assume the very worst about their Soviet counterparts." More recently, Sojourners has taken up the cause of environmental activism, opposed welfare reform as a "mean-spirited Republican agenda," and mounted a defense of affirmative action.

Vote for the Common Good, is a reputedly bankrupt organization set up to see how many fools will 'donate to this cause' as a public test of gullibility of US Citizens. Soros and the US Government already KNOW how many are on the public-teat, they want to find out how many others are ignorant enough to perpetually support them.

Jewish Council For Public Affairs (JCPA), states its mission as serving as "representative voice of the organized American Jewish community in addressing the principal mandate of the Jewish community relations field, expressed in three interrelated goals:

To safeguard the rights of Jews here and around the world;

To dedicate ourselves to the safety and security of the State of Israel;

To protect, preserve and promote a just American society, one that is democratic and pluralistic, one that furthers harmonious interreligious, inter ethnic, interracial and other intergroup relations."

While it is certainly Zionist, it has a broader focus than organizations such as the American Israel Public Affairs Committee or Zionist Organization of America. It is a partner of Faithful America, an interfaith group concerned with social issues in the United States and the world, associated with the Religious Left. And this in spite of Soros' reputed anti-semitism!

Muslim Public Affairs Council, Formed in 1988; identifies as a public affairs organization working for the civil rights of American Muslims and their integration into the American political process. Robert Spencer, at DiscoverTheNetworks, dismisses it as claiming its chief enemy as Steven Emerson and his Investigative Project on Terrorism rather than terrorist groups; called anti-Israel by Anti-Defamation League; has allied with American progressive groups. And:

National Council of Churches or NCC, is an ecumenical partnership of 36 Christian faith groups in the United States. Its member denominations, churches, conventions, and archdioceses include Mainline Protestant, Orthodox, African-American, Evangelical, and historic Peace churches. Together, they encompass 100,000 local congregations and 45 million adherents.

Institute for Policy Studies: This think tank has long supported Communist and anti-American causes around the world. Viewing capitalism as a breeding ground for "unrestrained greed," IPS seeks to provide a corrective to "unrestrained markets and individualism." Professing an unquestioning faith in the righteousness of the United Nations, it aims to bring American foreign policy under UN control.

Media Fund: Soros played a major role in creating this group, whose purpose was to conceptualize, produce, and place political ads on television, radio, print, and the Internet.

Media Matters for America: This organization is a "web-based, not-for-profit progressive research and information center" seeking to "systematically monitor a cross-section of print, broadcast, cable, radio, and Internet media outlets for conservative misinformation."

MoveOn.org: This Web-based organization supports Democratic political candidates – if they are SOCIALIST enough – through fundraising, advertising, and get-out-the-vote drives.

Ms. Foundation for Women: This group laments what it views as the widespread and enduring flaws of American society: racism, sexism, homophobia, and the violation of civil rights and liberties. It focuses its philanthropy on groups that promote affirmative action for women, unfettered access to taxpayer-funded abortion-on-demand, amnesty for illegal aliens, and big government generally.

The Nation Institute: This nonprofit entity sponsors leftist conferences, fellowships, awards for radical activists, and journalism internships. Since 1978 has worked in conjunction with The Nation magazine to recruit, train and influence journalism interns who will carry the Institute's leftist politics into the mainstream.

National Immigration Law Center: This group seeks to win unrestricted access to government-funded social welfare programs for illegal aliens.

Planned Parenthood: This group is the largest abortion provider in the United States and advocates taxpayer-funded abortion-on-demand.

Ploughshares Fund: This public grant-making foundation opposes America's development of a missile defense system, and contributes to many organizations that are highly critical of U.S. foreign policies and military ventures.

Prison Moratorium Project: This initiative was created in 1995 for the express purpose of working for the elimination of all prisons in the United States and the release of all inmates. Reasoning from the premise that incarceration is never an appropriate means of dealing with crime, it deems American society's inherent inequities the root of all criminal behavior.

Shadow Democratic Party: This is an elaborate network of non-profit activist groups organized by George Soros and others to mobilize resources – money, get-out-the-vote drives, campaign advertising, and policy initiatives – to elect Democratic candidates and guide the Democratic Party towards the left.

Tides Foundation and Tides Center: Tides is a major funder of the radical Left. Established in 1976 by California-based activist, Drummond Pike, the Tides Foundation was set up as a public charity that receives money from donors and then funnels it to the recipients of their choice. Because many of these recipient groups are quite radical, the donors often prefer not to have their names publicly linked with the donees. By letting the Tides Foundation, in effect, launder the money and pass it along to the intended beneficiaries, donors can avoid leaving a "paper trail." Such contributions are called "donor-advised," or donor-directed, funds. Pike also heads the Tides Center, which was created in 1996 by the Tides Foundation. The Tides Center functions as a legal firewall insulating the Tides Foundation from potential lawsuits filed by people whose livelihoods or well-being may have been harmed by Foundation-funded projects.

Urban Institute: This Soros-funded research organization favors socialized medicine, expansion of the federal welfare bureaucracy, and tax hikes for higher income-earners.
