

THE BRIEFEST BRIEFING ON THE COMING "MARTIAL LAW"

MIDNIGHT RIDE: Are the British Coming Again?

In 1775 the British government wanted the Colonists' guns and sent the military to get them. Paul Revere rode hard the night of April 18, 1775, to let the Colonists' Militia know 'the British are coming'. Longfellow's classic poem called that ride the "Midnight Ride of Paul Revere."

As with the British government back then, today's government wants our guns and is pre-positioning military armaments around the nation in preparation for "Martial Law" while simultaneously establishing what then Secretary of Defense William S. Cohen dubbed in 1999 an "unequivocal and unambiguous chain of responsibility, authority and accountability". That is Govlish terminology for "Chain of Command".

A couple of years after Cohen published that op-ed in the Washington Post the government created the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS), which would become the head of that chain of command.

Further, we add to that development a complexity spearheaded under DARPA in the mid-1990s which united the Department of Justice with the Department of Defense. (With no due process through Congress.) In other words, the US military was merged with Civil Law Enforcement at the Department of Justice, where we find the ATF, DEA, FBI, and other ill-reputed agencies -- and all of that is now interconnected with the Department of Homeland Security's "Fusion Centers".

Finally we note at the Washington Post's Top Secret America website that more than a thousand and nine hundred private-sector businesses are contracted to various government agencies and departments to conduct Psychological Operations on the American public, in a covert effort to induce what Brzezinski calls a "consensus" on desired governmental policy.

The American public is being conditioned to accept an "emergency-based" military-police state command structure which ranges outward from DHS through the Pentagon, FEMA and the Department of Justice, and uses Fusion Centers to coordinate the profiling of dissent among the population. Some of the profiles which have made their way into public awareness in the alternative media include "Constitutionalists", "returning war veterans" and "Ron Paul supporters". Pastor Chuck Baldwin, a frequently-published author here at NewsWithViews.com, was personally named in one Fusion Center profile report which got leaked to the public in 2009.

So today the alert, awake, and aware average American knows that "the government is coming". Yet too many somnambulistic and comfortable Americans remain unaware of this mounting threat, and must be warned. Indeed, it is time for:

The New 'MIDNIGHT RIDE'

Constitutional documentary filmmaker James Jaeger and the organization named Oath Keepers, both being duly inspired by the writings of Dr. Edward Vieira, Jr., are riding hard to alert Americans that "The government is coming!" To do that, James Jaeger and Oath Keepers have teamed up to produce a remarkable documentary movie about the four types of "martial law" and what the Constitution has to say about each.

Inspired by the writings of Edwin Vieira, with emphasis on his most recent tome, By Tyranny Out Of Necessity: The Bastardy Of "Martial Law", James Jaeger has named this film "MIDNIGHT RIDE". The movie can have as much impact today as Paul Revere's midnight ride had back in 1775. Indeed, 'martial law' is visibly coming at us now, insulting and even attacking our philosophy, our culture, and our traditional way of being good-natured morally-upright Americans. Dr. Vieira's book is available at Amazon.com, and his other book "How to Dethrone the Imperial Judiciary."

Yes, the spirit of resisting tyranny is as "American" today as it was in 1775 -- although often overlooked. The spirit of freedom, and the abhorrence of tyranny, live on and show signs of hope in places like Tennessee (1946), Connecticut, New York State, Colorado, Texas -- and just recently in Washington State.

That same spirit of resistance was also captured in the 1960s Underground with the classic song by the Allman Brothers Band, Midnight Rider.

I've Got One More Silver Dollar, and I Ain't Gonna Let 'em Catch Me, No! Ain't Gonna Let 'em Catch The Midnight Rider

Just as the Allman Brothers band carried the lantern in the resistance to the Anglo-American Establishment's mischief way back in the 1960s, Oath Keepers and James Jaeger of Matrix Entertainment are carrying the torch of Constitutional freedom by producing the classiest, most Constitutionally-correct denouncement of the coming police-state's authoritarian "martial law" ever.

Classy? You bet! The movie features a cast of well-known thinkers, including Ron Paul, G. Edward Griffin, Stewart Rhodes, Larry Pratt, Chuck Baldwin, Edwin Vieira, Dan Hoppel, Sheriff Mack, KrisAnne Hall and others. That is a very powerful lineup, and ten of them have already been interviewed on camera for this film.

The movie honors Paul Revere's famous ride by recreating the same spirit to alert the American people about the coming threat of a berserk federal government which mistakenly considers "martial law" to be one of its rightful powers. The film will show the fallacy in that deception, and is thus named: MIDNIGHT RIDE When Rogue Politicians Call for Martial Law. The official website.

About OATH KEEPERS

Oath Keepers is a Constitutionalist organization with a core membership of retired, Veteran, and currently-serving, fire-fighters, peace officers and military personnel who each swore the same Oath to the Constitution prior to entering public service. Oath Keepers teaches police and soldiers and fire-fighters that the Oath is sworn to the Constitution itself, and is not sworn to "the government" which came out of that Constitution. The Constitution is the written word and will of the American people and as such is incorruptible, whereas any idiot, like Harry Reid for example, can get into a seat of government power and pervert the Constitution.

Oath Keepers is helping produce this stunning documentary movie about the four types of "martial law" and what the Constitution has to say about each of those, because we see this film as a valuable teaching tool. We understand that "martial law" cannot happen in America without the complicit cooperation of our police and soldiers.

MIDNIGHT RIDE -- the sister film to MOLON LABE -- explores what would happen if the dollar crashed taking the world financial system with it? How would today's militarized police state be used in the ensuing civil unrest? Would martial law be declared? If it were, would it be Constitutional? Should such martial law be obeyed? The concerned citizen should be asking these questions as the founder of Oath Keepers -- Stewart Rhodes -- asked many years ago.

To that end, MIDNIGHT RIDE will address much of the Oath Keeper's mission: The Ten Orders which police and military personnel should not obey; such include orders include:

ORDER: We will NOT obey orders to disarm the American people.

ORDER: We will NOT obey orders to conduct warrantless searches of the American people.

ORDER: We will NOT obey orders to detain American citizens as "unlawful enemy combatants" or to subject them to military tribunal.

ORDER: We will NOT obey orders to impose martial law or a "state of emergency" on a state.
